THE BATTLE OF THE AISNE.

FURTHER FRENCH ADVANCE.

London, Oct. 25.
A French communiqué states:—
The situation, to the north of the Aisne in the sector of Braye-en-Laonnois and Chavignon, is unchanged.

During the night we again advanced on the Chavignon-Mont-des-Singes front, and reached Nogay farm. We have taken over 500 prisoners here, since last evening.

An enemy surprise attack at Sapignoul bridgehead, preceded by a violent bombardment, failed.

German airmen dropped two bombs on Nancy. There were no victims.

Twenty-five enemy aeroplanes were brought down, or fell in their own lines, out of control.

ENTIRELY IMAGINARY ATTACKS

Paris, Oct. 25.
A semi-official report states that the two attacks by the French at Chemin-des-Dames, mentioned in a German communiqué, are entirely imaginary.

GERMAN "WITHDRAWAL"

London, Oct. 25.
A German official message states:
Our advanced troops in the Fionn, Chavignon and Aillet regions, have withdrawn behind the Oise canal owing to the French pressure.

GREAT BATTLE ON ITALIAN FRONT.

London, Oct. 25.
An Italian official message states:
The enemy launched a strong attack,
after a very violent bombardment, especially between Mount Ronbin and the northern edge of the Bainsizza Plateau.

We resisted at Sago, but more to the south the enemy penetrated our advanced lines on the left bank of the Isone, and crossed the river at Saint Maria and Saint Lucia.

We checked powerful attacks to the west of Volinik and also on the western slopes of Mont San Gabrielle where our counter-attacks yielded a few hundred prisoners.

THE ENEMY CLAIMS.

London, Oct. 25.
A German official message states:
The Austro-German armies attacked on a 30-kilometre front on the Isone. They penetrated Flitch Bassin and Tolmino, overrunning strong positions in the first thrust.
The Italians desperately resisted and the fighting is proceeding.

By the evening we had captured
10,000 prisoners including Divisional Brigade Staffs, also rich booty.

AUSTRO-GERMANS CLAIM FRESH SUCCESSSES

London, Oct. 25.
A German official message states:
We have gained fresh successes near Flitch and Tolmino, and our prisoners and booty are increasing.

THE FLANDERS BATTLE
BRITISH REPULSE ANOTHER STRONG COUNTER-ATTACK.

London, Oct. 25.
Field-Marshal Sir Douglas Haig reports:—

We completely repulsed another strong counter-attack last night, to the south of Houthulst Wood.

The Gloucesters, Worcesters and Berks carried out a successful raid on the position between Roeux and Gavrelle, killing many of the enemy, and destroying dug-outs.

ANGLO-FRENCH DRUM FIRE.

London, Oct. 25.
A German official message states:
The enemy drumfire is most violent between Houthulst Wood and Pass-chendaele.

THE RUSSIAN FRONT.

THE GERMAN WITHDRAWAL FROM RIGA FRONT.

Petrograd, Oct. 25.
The German withdrawal from the Riga front amounted to about eight-teen miles in two days. It was most pronounced to the north of Friedrich-stadt.

Apparently, the enemy intends to establish himself behind the Divina and to hold the right bank purely in order to protect Riga.

A Russian official message states:
The enemy retired fifteen miles in the Riga region, near the Pakov High Road and Little Jack.

Our vanguards, on some sectors,
lost touch with the retreating Germans.
The enemy destroyed all the buildings, roads and bridges, during the retreat.

We repulsed the enemy's attempts to land at Tombe and to the southward of Werder.

RUSSIAN TROOPS IN BALTIC ISLANDS.

INCREDIBLE TREACHERY.

Petrograd, Oct. 25.
A sailor, delegate of the Fleet Committee, who went to the Baltic Islands to watch this military operation and was taken prisoner, has escaped. He states that some of the Russian troops are despicable in their attitude to the Germans. They aided the espionage, which is rampant in the Islands, the inhabitants signalling by spreading sheets to guide the German airmen.

BRITISH ARMOUR CAR DIVISION

EXPECTATIONS.

Kerensky has telegraphed to Sir Eric Geddes the Army's thanks for the valuable and heroic work of Commander Locker Lampson's Armoured Car Division on the South-West Front, and adds that the Russians look forward with pride to their continuing cooperation, until the end of the gigantic struggle against the enemy of the whole world.

Sir Eric Geddes replied, warmly, thanking M. Kerensky, and stating that he is confident the Squadron will continue to fight gallantly with their Russian comrades in the great cause in which they are determined to triumph.

AN UNDESIRABLE.

A Chinese who was arrested on Wednesday at Samshipo for the theft of a lady's jacket, was, on looking up the records, found to be an undesirable who had been banished from Penang, and who had been warned by the local authorities against remaining in the Colony.

Mr. Dyer Ball sentenced the defendant to twelve months' hard labour.

QUARREL AMONG WATCHMEN.

Ayres J. Carneiro, a watchman on one of the new ships under construction at the Kowloon Docks, summoned J. Beltran, another watchman, for assault.

It was stated that the complainant's duty was to see that all those working under him did their duty properly. Defendant did not do his duty as it should have been done, and complainant reported the matter to the head watchman of the Docks, A. Tucker. Defendant went into a temper at having been cautioned for neglect of duty, and waited outside the Dock gate for complainant. They had a fight in which complainant had the worst.

Mr. Leo d'Almeida appeared for the complainant and Mr. J. H. Gardiner appeared for the defence.

Complainant gave evidence stating that on the 17th instant, at about 6 p.m., defendant waited for him outside the Dock gate. Defendant challenged him to fight but he refused. Defendant then struck him a blow in the face, knocking him down. He did not resist.

he only put up his hands to ward off the blows.

Cross-examined by Mr. Gardiner, complainant stated he had a stick but he did not use it. He was not a strong man in spite of his robust appearance.

Further evidence was given by W. Thomas, gate keeper at the Kowloon Docks. Witness stated that defendant challenged complainant to fight outside the Dock gates. Complainant refused, saying it was not necessary to go out, inside would do. Defendant then took off his coat and knocked complainant down. Complainant got up and seized hold of a ticket board and tried to strike defendant with it. Defendant again knocked him down.

His Worship decided that the defendant was in the wrong and convicted him of assault and disorderly conduct. A fine of ten dollars was imposed.

CHARGE OF THEFT AGAINST AN JAMAH.

An amah was charged before Mr. Wood yesterday, with the theft from two Chinese women, at No. 516 Queen's Road, West, of five pairs of gold bangles valued at $350, 1 pair pearl mounted silver bangles valued at $50, and three gold rings valued at $31, the total value being $631.

It was stated that the defendant was the servant of both complainants. The night before last, both complainants went out, leaving the amah to look after their things. They returned after ten o'clock that night to find that their leather boxes had been broken open and the jewellery stolen. It was said that the defendant was seen by people of the house to go into complainants' room and to go out of the house several times that night.

Defendant pleaded not guilty. She stated she never stole the articles mentioned. She had seen several visitors come to complainants that night, and what happened after that she did not know. The case was remanded.

HOW GERMANY SECURED COFFEE.

ELABORATE WEB OF AGENTS AND BOGUS CONSIGNEES.

£100,000 IN VALUE ORDERED.

Some idea of the magnitude of the German plan of employing neutrals to procure food supplies was provided by Sir Samuel Evans in the Prize Court, London, when he gave his reasons for condemning as contraband 1,300 tons of coffee, valued at over £100,000.

The coffee was seized on 50 neutral steamers on voyages from Brazil to Scandinavia and Dutch ports. It was shipped by G. Trinks and Co., of Santos, the other firm operating in the transactions being G. Trinks and Co., of Hamburg. The proprietor of the Santos house was partner in the German house.

Before the war, said the President, Brazil was the greatest producer and Hamburg the greatest distributor of coffee in the whole world. After the outbreak of hostilities it was difficult to import coffee to any German port. Coffee, however, was urgently required for the German military and naval forces, of whose rations it formed an essential part.

Imports of coffee into Holland and Scandinavia for the first year of the war exceeded normal requirements by nearly 4,000,000 bags, or 230,000 tons. By far the greatest portion of the coffee seized in the present cases was in ships proceeding to Swedish ports.

WORKING OF THE SCHEME.

Intercepted correspondence exposed the methods of the Trinks houses in Brazil and Hamburg. They were to procure persons in neutral countries to lend their names as consignees, and to act as intermediaries for getting the coffee through to Germany; to set up bogus companies for the same purpose; to suppress the names of the real consignees and consignees; to use false and misleading names; and to manufacture false documents in order to give their dealings the appearance of honest neutral business.

This was done with the object of evading capture and of deceiving the belligerent captors. In some instances, perhaps, in many, they succeeded. It was found that quantities of coffee, though consigned to Scandinavian ports in the names of neutral consignees, managed to escape or elude the Allied warships and were landed in Hamburg. An elaborate web had been spun by the two firms in neutral countries.

Reason for the condemnation of the coffee in certain instances said Sir Samuel, was that it was conditional contraband shipped by Trinks of Santos, with an undoubted destination for Trinks of Hamburg at Hamburg, which was a base of supply and a garrison town. Moreover, it was destined to become the property of enemy merchants.

In other cases his lordship held that the neutral claimants had failed to show that the goods had become their property before seizure; also that the coffee was contaminated by the presence on the same vessel of other goods of the same shippers which were undeclared and had been condemned.

Leave to appeal, asked for as regards four of the claims, was granted.
